ARAB ATTACK
IS INDICATED
IN PALESTINETOUGH ARMY MOVED INTO DAMASCUS
BY TRUCKLOAD

BY JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
Damascus, Syria, Feb. 3 (AP)—Truckloads of armed Arabs rolling into Damascus led many observers to believe today that a general attack on Palestine Jews may be approaching.

Some believe such an attack has been set for Feb. 15.

Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji, leader of the Arab forces, told newsmen that "the middle east's finest army is moving in."

He said he expects to move his headquarters to Palestine "soon," and that he will assume personal direction of operations.

"We are organizing slowly and thoroughly for an all-out fight," he said. "When we strike it will be with confidence of complete victory."

Ahmed Sharabati, Syrian defense minister, said in an interview Jan. 13 that a "direct frontal attack against Jewish forces can be expected." He said such an offensive, to sweep Zionism from Palestine, would be launched this month.

Sharabati said an Arab "people's army" would make the attack, fighting against the partition of Palestine approved Nov. 29 by the United Nations.

Ban On Oleo Gets
Test In Purchase
By Wayne County

Detroit, Feb. 3 (AP)—Defying a 57-year-old Michigan law forbidding use of oleomargarine in state institutions, the Wayne county board of auditors went ahead today with plans to buy 9,000 pounds for patients at the county general hospital.

Auditor George O. Cornell remarked that the board members were taking "another step toward jail" as they inspected bids from eight oleo firms. The bids, he reported, were up to 50 cents a pound lower than recent quotations on butter.

For months the institution has been unable to afford butter, and patients have had nothing to spread on their bread.

The law prohibiting the serving of oleo in any state institution except prisons carries a penalty of 90 days in jail and a fine of $100.

NEW ICY WAVE
WHIPS MIDWEST

Mercury Far Below
Zero; California Has
First Rain

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP)—The cold-harassed Midwest, not given a chance to thaw out from last week's frigid blasts, got another batch of icy temperatures, snow and freezing rain today. Some of the inclement weather headed for the east and the New England states.

Temperatures dropped far below zero in several midwest states—and Montana—as a fresh mass of cold air from central Canada moved into the Arctic Red River Valley region.

The mercury hit the 25 below mark at International Falls, Minn., and Pembina, N. D., today and it was below zero over Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, and Iowa.

There were drops in temperature in the upper Missouri, upper Mississippi and northern Great Lakes.

Rain fell in San Francisco yesterday—11 of an inch—the first since Jan. 7 to break the unusual winter drought. There was rain and some snow and hail across California but not enough to repair the damage wrought by the January dry spell.

Mother Jailed, Jabs
Pin Into Her Baby

Chambersburg, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Harper, 26, of Milroy, Pa., is being held in the Franklin county jail after state police charged her with attempting to take the life of her 10-day-old son by jabbing a safety pin into his head.

Cpl. Earl Moore and Pvt. Theodore Jones said the young mother told them she pushed the pin into the baby's skull while feeding him Sunday at the Chambersburg hospital. The child was not seriously hurt.

The state policemen said Mrs. Harper gave no reason for her act. The child's condition was described by hospital authorities today as good.

French Gold Now
On Free Market

Paris, Feb. 3 (AP)—Gold went on a free market in France today for the first time since 1939.

A government bill to permit free trading in gold was enacted into law last night by the upper chamber of the French parliament. The chamber of deputies, the lower house, passed it last week.

The measure, part of the government's anti-inflation program, is intended to bring gold out of hiding for use by the nation. Yesterday, however, before final passage of the bill, the gold "Napoleon"—an old French gold coin—dropped from 3,500 to 3,400 francs on the black market.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 3 (AP)—A Wisconsin law which prohibits publication of the identity of a rape victim was held "unconstitutional and invalid" by Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor today.

Judge Proctor dismissed a charge against William T. Evjue, editor of the Madison Capital Times, of violating the statute. Evjue was accused of publishing the name of a young woman who told authorities she was raped by two men who shot her brother-in-law and tossed his weighted body into the Wisconsin River. The men now are serving life terms for murder.

Revolt Plot
Is Uncovered
In Venezuela

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 3 (AP)—A cargo airplane and two bombsights which the president of Venezuela charged were for use in an attack on the capital of Caracas have been recovered here, the Augusta Chronicle said today.

President Romulo Betancourt said in Caracas yesterday two planes left the United States and loaded bombs at Nicaragua "with the presumed objective of bombarding the capital of the republic."

He said he had cabled Nicaraguan President Roman Y Reyes that the planes, carrying 27 armed, hostile Venezuelans had stopped over at Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua last month.

One plane left Bush Field in Augusta, Jan. 26 and the other left Daytona Beach, Fla., Jan. 27, he asserted. Betancourt said there is a "foreign plot" afoot to prevent President-elect Romulo Gallegos from taking office in Venezuela.

FBI agents have been investigating for some time sale of three airplanes from Bush Field near Augusta, believed to have been destined for a South American country, the Chronicle reported.

WAR OF WORDS
WAGED BY U. S.

Counter-Punch Charges
Violation Of Treaty
By Red Romania

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United States aimed a counter-punch today in the war of words with Russia. It charged Communist-dominated Romania with violating its new peace treaty.

Secretary of State Marshall gave notice at the same time, however, that the United States is ready to discuss again the Soviet price for a peace treaty for Austria.

Marshall proposed that deputies of the big four foreign ministers' council reconvene February 20 in London to take up the Russian demands. These include a 50-year concession on most of Austria's oil output and a lump sum payment of $200,000,000 in reparations.

The American protest to Romania charged that country with denying "human rights" and "fundamental freedoms" by crushing opposition to the Communists—all in violation of the peace treaty which went into effect last December.

MILITANT HINDU
GROUPS MOBBED

Assassination Of Gandhi
Stirs Up Violence
Throughout India

By G. Milton Kelly
New Delhi, Feb. 3 (AP)—Throughout India today members of two militant Hindu groups which bitterly opposed Mohandas K. Gandhi's peace appeals were attacked by mobs enraged over the Hindu spiritual leader's assassination.

The Indian press said large numbers of both Mahasabha and the RSS were being arrested by police for questioning. Others were beaten and stoned.

Mahasabha—Literally great organization—is a political body with branches all over India. It was formed in this century as a reply to the Moslem league. It seeks an India run solely by Hindu laws with no protection for Moslem rights at the expense of Hindus.

RSS—Rastriya Swayam Sevak Sangh—is another militant group with similar beliefs.

Both organizations are classed as rightist. Both have been assailed as Fascist. Both maintain youth organizations called "Volunteers" which have been described as private armies.

The New Delhi government of Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, in a pledge to maintain peace yesterday banned private armies and organizations which preach violence and communal hatred.

Police said Gandhi's accused assassin was a member of Mahasabha.

SENATE PUTS
GOP TAX CUT
BILL ON ICE

MEASURE EXPECTED TO BE HELD UP
FOR 2 MONTHS

BY FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Senate put the Republican tax cutting bill on ice today.

The bill may stay in the cooler for two months or more.

And when it does come up for a Senate vote, it probably will call for less than the $6,500,000,000 cut overwhelmingly approved by the House.

The GOP measure rocketed through the House yesterday by a 297 to 120 count. That is 19 votes more than the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto.

LAWSON, NOTED
FINANCIER DIES

Head Of Wall Street's
House Of Morgan
Is Stricken

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—Thomas W. Lawson, 77, a country clergyman's son who became head of Wall Street's famed "House of Morgan," died last night at his winter home in Boca Grande, Fla.

Death of the board chairman of J. P. Morgan and Co., was announced in New York early today by R. G. Wasson, a vice-president of the banking firm.

"His heart finally gave out," Wasson said. The financier and philanthropist had been in poor health for more than a year. He had been in Florida since early January.

Wasson said the slight, genial banker died peacefully in his sleep. At his bedside were his wife and two of their four children, Corliss Lawson and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham.

Lawson's almost legendary role in the financial world began in 1903. Then 33 years old, he became secretary and treasurer of the newly organized Bankers Trust Co. His reputation as a shrewd organizer and astute financier spread rapidly and eight years later, J. Pierpont Morgan invited him to become a partner in J. P. Morgan and Co.

For two decades before the death of the younger J. P. Morgan in 1943, he was second only to Morgan himself in guiding the destinies of the international banking house. With Morgan's passing, Lawson succeeded him as chairman of the board and senior officer of the firm.

Inquiry Requested
For Million Dollar
Racket in Detroit

Detroit, Feb. 3 (AP)—Prosecutor James N. McNally today petitioned for a one-man grand jury to investigate a "million dollar a year racket" in Wayne county.

He gave no hint of the nature of the so-called racket nor did he identify "certain organizations" suspected of operating it.

Attorney General Eugene F. Black's name also was on the petition presented to Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat.

McNally said he would divulge his reasons for the petition later after "all the preliminary information is in Judge Groat's hands."

Unrest in Shanghai
Routs Foreigners

Shanghai, Feb. 3 (AP)—American and other foreign officials, predicting that Shanghai's social unrest will worsen, today rushed plans for the swift evacuation of their nationals in an emergency.

Shanghai police were ordered, "Shoot to kill," if the past week's rioting flares anew.

Three women were killed and 110 persons, including 40 policemen, were injured yesterday in a pitched battle involving a portion of 7,000 sitdown strikers in a cotton mill. Three hundred workers were arrested.

The case was to be heard by Judge D. H. Rodgers and a jury.

The suit was filed by Pearson more than 18 months ago. It was based upon comments written by the paper's Charleston correspondent after an appearance of the Washington columnist and radio commentator in Charleston as a lecturer on April 22, 1946.

from the Atlantic ocean to the Great Lakes. Part of it would be a 2,200,000-horsepower electricity plant near Massena, N. Y.

The total cost would be $674,000,000. The United States would put up $491,000,000 of this, Canada $183,000,000.

Since 1920 the project has come up in Congress six times and lost every time.

The proposal now before the Senate is a resolution by 16 senators to authorize the U. S. share. If passed, it would have to be followed by a bill to provide the money.

Lodge made his prediction amid signs that it may be three weeks before the Senate reaches a vote on the measure.

A high Democratic strategist and a ranking Republican told a reporter privately Lodge is right.

Lodge said he is "very confident" of beating the bill whether the vote comes this week or later.

Lewis Irked Again;
Soft Coal Walkout
By Spring Is Feared

By Norman Walker
Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—The fuel-conscious nation faced a possible threat from John L. Lewis today of a nationwide soft coal strike by spring.

Lewis told the industry he feels free to "take any independent action necessary" to start benefit payments to miners out of their untapped, $50,000,000 (M) welfare fund.

Lewis' cryptic note yesterday puzzled the mine operators.

Some said they fear it may mean an April 1 strike by the 400,000 members of the United Mine Workers union, Lewis heads.

Reached at his home, the UMW chief said only: "I wouldn't have any comment at all."

BUDGET COMES FIRST

Only one Republican—Rep. H. Carl Andersen of Minnesota—voted against it. Sixty-three Democrats voted for it.

But Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, told reporters he doubts that the Senate will be able to override a veto unless the amount of revenue loss is reduced.

Taft did not say how much of a reduction he thinks will be necessary. But some leading Democrats predicted that if the bill is held down to around $4,000,000,000 any presidential objections will be overturned.

In any event the Senate is going to wait until the Senate-House budget committee takes a whack at President Truman's proposal to spend $39,700,000,000 during the fiscal year starting July 1.

Senate Republicans are aiming at a cut of at least $3,000,000,000 in the budget estimates, but some party members have said they may not be able to meet that goal.

Police said holes were blown in the girl's clothing by the blast, set off by a detonator and flashlight batteries. City Coroner Charles M. Irvin gave a verdict of suicide.

Project Licked, Says
Republican Senator

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Senator Lodge (R-Mass) said today the St. Lawrence Seaway project is licked.

A high Democratic strategist and a ranking Republican told a reporter privately Lodge is right.

Lodge said he is "very confident" of beating the bill whether the vote comes this week or later.

Gas Shortage Still Worry In Michigan; Sigler Takes Action

(By The Associated Press)

Detroit's still serious natural gas shortage became the concern of Governor Sigler today (Tuesday) as cold weather continued.

The governor announced he would meet with state fuel administrator Donald S. Leonard to determine whether the state could take any action in the shortage that has idled thousands of industrial workers for nearly a week.

There were indications that Sigler might call in the heads of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and its supplier, Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., for a conference on the matter.

The chief executive's move followed a demand for a congressional investigation of the gas deficiency by Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers.

The idle included 50,000 Chrysler Corp. workers, and thousands more employed by four General Motors divisions. The Ford Motor Co., until yesterday unaffected by the shortage since it had its own gas facilities, sent home 900 workers from its Highland Park plant.

Some 21,000 Briggs Manufacturing Co. workers have been idled since the curtailment last Tuesday, and 5,500 were laid off yesterday by the Packard Motor Car Co. Also newly-affected by the shortage was the L. A. Young Spring and Wire Corp., which sent home 2,900 employees.

For all the idle, a return to work depends upon the lifting of Michigan Consolidated's suspension order, and the company indicated yesterday its curtailment was indefinite.

A supply of fuel oil, which the company could use to manufacture artificial gas and increase its reserves, remained stalled by a snowstorm at Hartford, Ill.

At Toledo several more million gallons were waiting, but a tank car shortage tied up deliveries.

Surviving are his wife and a son, George R. Labre, of this city; a brother, Rene Labre, of Escanaba also, and three sisters, Mrs. Louis Burm, Gladstone; Mrs. Walter Paine, Stephenson, and Anna Labre, Los Angeles.

The body will lie in state at Alto funeral home Wednesday afternoon at three and funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 9 a. m., from St. Patrick church with Rev. Fr. Martin Melican officiating. Burial will be made in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

Youth Is Hurt in Toboggan Accident

Ernest Lavigne Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lavigne, 616 South 10th street, suffered severe face injuries Sunday evening in a toboggan accident near Powers. His condition is not serious, although his nose was broken and his face badly bruised and cut.

The accident occurred when Lavigne and Noel Pleasau, Powers youth, were riding on a toboggan being towed by a light truck. They were traveling about 40 miles an hour when the toboggan overturned. There were eight youths in the party who had taken turns riding on the toboggan.

Lavigne was in Powers visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Amelia Revord, on Sunday when he was invited to go on the tobogganning party.

Name Bidders On State Timber in Menominee County

Four successful bidders were determined today at an auction of state-owned timber on 240 acres in Menominee county, conducted by Clarence Lippert, district forester, at conservation department headquarters office in Escanaba.

The bidders compete only in bidding on a bonus which they pay the state above the fixed stumpage prices for the block. The six blocks of timber were located one block of hardwood saw logs, and the others mostly spruce, balsam and cedar.

Artemus C. Wells Services Held At Menominee Today

Funeral services were held today in Menominee for Artemus Carter Wells, 70, Upper Peninsula business man and member of a prominent Menominee family, who died Saturday night in St. Joseph's hospital, after collapsing Thursday at his office in the J. David Evans Buzza, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated.

Mr. Wells, who was president of the Wells Lumber company, also headed the Superior Sugar Refining company and the Diamond Coal & Dock company. He was a director in the First National Bank of Menominee and served for many years as a member of the Menominee school board.

In addition to his activities in numerous civic organizations, he was a member of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association and of the Maple Flooring Manufacturers' association, of which he was a past president.

He is survived by two sons, John W. Wells II and Samuel A. Wells; four grandchildren; two brothers, Ralph W. Wells, Menominee, and Daniel Wells, Detroit; and one sister, Mrs. Arthur Walsh, of Winnetka, Ill. His wife, the former Harriet L. Stephenson, died three weeks ago.

This entirely new act, which has been given special attention, is expected to be one of the most appealing on the 20-act program. The Escanaba Ice Varieties of 1948 will open at the indoor rink here Thursday night and continue Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, with a matinee performance Sunday. ## Final Rehearsal Tonight For Escanaba Ice Show; To Open Thursday Night

The Escanaba Ice Varieties of 1948, which will open at the indoor rink here Thursday night for a four-night stand, reached the last-minute preparation stage today as committee workers began to clean up all the multitudinous details that a show of this magnitude entails.

All installations were nearly complete today, including lighting and properties. Microphones are being put in their proper place and wired; telephones are being installed to aid the direction of spotlights, and Walkie Talkies are ready to be used to maintain contact between back stage and the ice surface entrance.

Meanwhile, committees are doing all the last-minute work on properties and costumes in preparation for the big opening Thursday night. Those who have not procured tickets are urged to do so without delay.

A cast of more than 200 skaters will present 20 varied acts four successive nights, beginning Thursday, and at a special matinee performance Sunday afternoon. More than 100 committee members are engaged in producing the 1948 show sponsored by the Escanaba Figure Skating club, which promises to be the "best ever."

Motion pictures were taken for the city recreation department at the full dress rehearsal last Sunday afternoon. Also, many still pictures in costume were taken. Jeannette LeCaptain, directress of the show, this morning announced a final rehearsal (not in costume) at the indoor rink this evening, beginning at 6 o'clock. All acts will be rehearsed tonight except the Easter Parade.

"Wednesday is a day of rest,"

DUAL PERSONALITY — The Dual Personality number of the Escanaba Ice Varieties of 1948 is one of the featured pair performances. The competent pair, pictured above, who will appear in this number are the Misses Doris Hogan and Dora Rose, both of Escanaba and both very capable figure skaters. Doris and Dora in Dual Personality will perform Thursday night, when the ice revue opens at the state fairgrounds indoor rink, and three successive nights. A matinee performance also is scheduled for next Sunday afternoon. This year's ice revue is expected to be the best of all. More than 200 skaters are in the cast; more than 100 committee workers are participating, and 20 entertaining acts will be presented.

she said: "There will be no rehearsals at all Wednesday. Tuesday night's work constitutes the end of the preparation as far as the figure skating is concerned."

Peculiar Reasoning

THE FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS commission, which licenses radio stations in the United States and draws rules and regulations for their operation, has ruled that a radio station may not censor the content of political broadcasts, even when the material may be libelous. With this ruling the FCC has opened up a new avenue of trouble for radio stations.

The FCC further declared that a radio station may not be held financially responsible for libelous political material going on the air. The theory behind this is that if radio stations have no control over the content of political broadcasts then they should have no liability for libelous material thus carried.

The gimmick in the FCC ruling is that the FCC is not the last word on libel. That's the prerogative of the courts and particularly the U. S. Supreme Court. Moreover, the individual states have their own laws regarding libel and slander and the FCC has no authority whatsoever to revise or restrict the state libel laws as they now exist.

Newspapers are subject to libel laws and are responsible for all the material published, advertisements included. If the newspapers suspect a statement may be libelous, they refuse to publish it. The FCC now says that radio stations cannot do likewise if the statement is of a political nature.

This then brings up another matter. Are the radio stations obliged to operate with two sets of rules, one governing political subjects and another for all other types of material contained in radio broadcasts? According to the FCC, the radio stations must divide the time available for political broadcasts equally between the major parties but without privilege of deleting from the texts any material suspected of being libelous.

Aiding Higher Education

THE PRESIDENT'S commission on higher education, seeking to expand educational opportunities and facilities in the nation, has proposed the United States government appropriate slightly more than two and a half billion dollars over a five year period to publicly supported colleges and for scholarships and fellowships at public and private schools.

The advantages that such a program would provide are apparent. The strength of our democracy is predicated upon the intelligence and knowledge of our people. Our national defense is closely interwoven with the nation's educational system.

The president's commission has proposed that the first two years of college education be offered to all students on a tuition free basis and part of the federal funds would be used for that purpose. Sharp reductions in tuition costs for the remaining years also are proposed. A portion of the federal subsidy would be used to assist with new construction and for operating costs of the colleges. More than three-quarters of a billion dollars would be spent for federal scholarships at both public and private institutions of higher learning.

This program, of course, would prove of considerable importance to the grade and high schools of the nation as well by attracting more people to the teacher profession.

A nation that is spending billions of dollars in arms and armaments and more billions for aid to foreign countries certainly can and should give thought to assisting its own program of higher education, the benefits of which accrue so generously to all of the people.

C&NW Centennial

RAILROADS centering in Chicago are planning the greatest railroad show ever held to be staged in July and August on the Lake Michigan shore and the site of the 1933-34 world's fair. The occasion will be the 100th anniversary of the coming to Chicago of the first steam locomotive—the Pioneer of the Chicago and North Western railway.

The show, if plans go through, will be national in scope. The story of the Iron Horse will be unfolded, beginning with the Chicago scene before the arrival of the whites, when there were only crude Indian means of transportation. Exhibits of equipment used in railroad building will be placed in huge tents covering part of the area. And a series of tracks will provide the base for showings of the latest in cars and locomotives.

Perhaps one of the most interesting features will be the Pioneer, the 10-ton wood-burning engine which made its first run out of Chicago on what is now a part of the C&NW railway system. The Pioneer was built 137 years ago, and it was shipped to Chicago by boat after several years' service in the east. A replica of one of the Pioneer's first coaches will be built for the occasion, and a new wooden cow-catcher will supplant the old one which time has damaged. This show should be a great success, for just about everybody is interested in railroad engines and trains.

Protests Rejected

SECRETARY MARSHALL acted correctly in rejecting the Russian protest of the presence of American warships in Italian waters as well as the Russian protest of the American plan to reopen an air base in Libya.

Secretary Marshall told the Russians that any protest of American warships in Italian waters should come not from the Russians but from the Italians. The Italians, however, welcomed the American ships and the Italian government bluntly informed Russia that Italy was ready to accept visits from any friendly sailors. As for the reopening of the American air base in Libya, this also was not the concern of the Russian government. The United States informed Russia that it needed only Britain's permission to reactivate the Libyan air base, and that Britain had already granted permission.

The ridiculousness of the Russian protest regarding the visit of American warships to Italian waters was further evidenced by the agreement between the United States and Italy for a treaty of friendship, trade and navigation, the first signed by Italy since its release from the yoke of Fascism.

JOHN A. LOMAX—PROSPECTOR (Grand Rapids Press)

Millions of Americans who probably never heard the name of John A. Lomax, who died recently, are indebted to him for his lifelong "prospecting" in the folk song field. Lomax first became interested in American ballads and folk tunes as a young university student in Texas. He set out consciously to collect and note them wherever they were to be found—among the southern Negroes and sharecroppers, the mining districts of California and the lumber camps of northern United States. Among his most notable discoveries was "Home on the Range," but he had many others, almost equally popular today, to his credit.

Among the first to encourage Lomax in his search for folk songs was Stewart Edward White. While still living in Michigan, White unearthed and sent on to Lomax some of the lumberjack songs which still were to be heard in the northern part of the state 40 to 50 years ago. Similarly other writers, college professors and historians, hearing of Lomax's work, helped to uncover and preserve what up to then had been a rapidly vanishing part of our national heritage.

Later Lomax, with his son, Alan, took charge of the Library of Congress' folk song archives. Together they amassed a collection of native songs and ballads running into the thousands, all of them now accessible to a public which, before John Lomax went to work, had paid but scant attention to folk songs. Today such folk singers as Burl Ives, John Jacob Niles and Rusan Reed draw huge crowds at every performance. They, too, owe a great debt to the man who for the greater part of his 80 years roamed America in quest of many of the songs they sing.

A laughing hyena escaped from a circus winter quarters. We'd suggest looking for it in movie houses.

An eastern pastor resigned because his congregation insisted on having church suppers. He probably doesn't like meat loaf.

A Michigan bride had 24 frocks, 15 pairs of shoes, eight pieces of lingerie, 10 pairs of gloves and nine hats. Almost enough for one suitcase.

HERE'S HOW THEY TALK (Radio Speech Portrait)

John W. Snyder

Secretary of the Treasury
Voice: Medium baritone of husky, un-musical quality. It has a little of the frog-voice hoarseness that marked the radio speech of the late Wendell Willkie; hence, it is a voice that lacks expression and animation. Because of its poor timbre, or, perhaps I should say lack of resonance, the Secretary's voice is not well suited for the radio.

Enunciation: Undistinguished but clear enough as lay speakers go. That is to say, Mr. Snyder's articulation does not have the finesse of the trained public speaker; but one understands him without difficulty.

Style: Slow and deliberate, too much so at times, for he has a habit of pausing between sentences, phrases, and even single words. This gives a rather jerky rhythm to his speech, as if he were stopping every few seconds to shift gears. The Secretary of the Treasury makes a splendid factual address; he mentions hundreds of billions as casually as I would count my small change. But he is no Demosthenes.

Pronunciation: Middle Western, with the typical burled "r" and the "brown coaw" twang. The distinguished secretary would give a far better account of himself on the radio if he would place himself for a while in the hands of a capable speech coach.

During the broadcast checked for his portrait, the word since was mispronounced "sense." The noun access was accented

World Events Analyzed

BY PETER EDSON

Washington. (NEA)—"They're for it, but they're afraid of it," a prominent international businessman told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the other day, in summing up his observations on business reaction to the Marshall Plan.

Gifford

Gifford came to Washington to tell the Senate about his plan for an "American Council for Aid to European Industry." First public announcement on the Gifford plan was made in this column last November. Briefly, Mr. Gifford proposes to line up the services of America's top executives, engineers and technical experts. He would make their "know how" available to the 16 European nations receiving aid under the Marshall Plan.

Gifford believes this aid would be readily forthcoming if American businessmen understood that, by contributing their services, they would help restore Europe, bring about a more lasting peace and reduce the drain on the American taxpayer.

NOT AWARE OF PURPOSE

The trouble is that American businessmen generally, with little or no foreign experience, don't know about these things. Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky asked Mr. Gifford why it was they didn't know. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has been holding public hearings on the Marshall Plan. They have been widely reported in the press and debated over the radio. Still the complaint comes back that people don't know, or don't understand, what the Marshall Plan is all about.

Mr. Gifford had one thought on the matter. The trouble was that the Marshall Plan presented so many imponderable problems that its elementary principles were lost sight of. This is the point that Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett has been emphasizing for months. Keep it simple. Don't get involved in details.

As Gifford analyzed it, no private business could conceive or handle a $6,800,000,000 program. But, if it were explained that $1,000,000,000 of that sum were to be set aside for industrial reconstruction, which would mean $1,000,000 in new capital for each of the 1000 enterprises in Europe, that they could understand.

In terms of the Gifford plan "an admirable suggestion for independent co-operation with the Marshall Plan," Chairman Arthur H. Vandenberg, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, declared that two-thirds of the possibilities it raised could be handled in the agreements made with each of the 16 European nations.

However it is done, the Gifford plan presents the first, if not the only, practical suggestion that has come from American business.

Now that the big brass of government has finished its first round of testimony on European recovery programs, leaders of business, labor, farm organizations and other pressure groups are coming to Washington to speak their pieces. What they have to offer has been pretty thin stuff. Most of their ideas have been for curbs and restrictions.

HOOPER OBLIGED OPPOSITION
Perhaps the political opposition expected big businessman Bernard Baruch to sabotage the Marshall Plan. When he gave it not only full support, but also an even bigger program than the State Department planners had outlined, the opposition had to fall back on Herbert Hoover. And the ex-president obliged by giving the plan its worst black eye. In a letter to Senator Vandenberg, Hoover suggested cutting the appropriations.

Likewise using the letter approach, President John L. Collier of B. F. Goodrich suggests that the goals for industrial expansion in Europe be reduced substantially. In so doing, he is reneging on the recommendations he approved in the Harri-man report.

The National Association of Manufacturers, first of the big business groups to come out with a criticism of the Marshall Plan, listed 14 points—all negative—on which it wanted modifications.

Fortunately, not all businessmen are of the Hoover-Collier-NAM school of thought. When Paul Hoffman of Studebaker, chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, gave the views of his big business associates to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, he advocated giving the Marshall Plan adequate funds over a period of time sufficient to make the program a success. "A half-hearted program," said Hoffman, "is likely to be worse than useless."

erroneously on the second syllable (correct: AK-sess). Essential was mispronounced "ee-sential" (the first "e" should be flat as in essence). The word virile was mispronounced "VAIR-u-ll" (correct: VEAR-ill). And equitable was several times given as "EK-wuh-b'l" instead of EK-wit-uh-b'l.

DREAM STUFF—While the red line in the thermometer keeps dragging its tail in the below-zero zone every night, the mail rounds takes a little bit of summertime dream stuff out of his pack, and with mittened fingers places it in the gardener's mail box. The seed catalogs are coming home to roost again, and men and women who consider themselves entirely practical in their outdoor look are floating away on a fleecy cloud of ever-blooming scabiosa, ipomoea and nierembergia.

Once on this cloud they won't come down to earth again until next summer, when they start harvesting their annual crop failure. There is nothing that blooms so impossibly brilliant as a new strain, a giant mammoth, or a glorious hybrid within the pages of the seed catalog. Yet at this season of the year there is nothing for the seed companies to apologize for in their catalogs. They bring more hope, revive more faith, renew more idealism than any other commercial enterprise. There are dreams sold with every package of seeds although reality will rudely awaken the gardener next summer.

HANG ON TIGHT—The men who write the advertising for seed catalogs should be adorned with medals. They have achieved the acme of enthusiasm and maintained it for page after page, without once coming down to higher earth, where seeds are usually planted.

Consider some of these expressive phrases about flower seeds: "A deep bright ultramarine, with a white halo and a gold throat; the attractive blossoms cover the plans all summer." And again: "Stunning flowers of soft velvety scarlet, borne in profusion from July until frost."

And who wouldn't be impressed with a page of flower pictures as proof and this to tell you how easy it is to grow them: "They range from delicate salmon pink through silvery pink, old gold, old rose, and bronze to deep rose and red tones of the richest depth. In beds and borders all these colors will blend harmoniously in a vivid display and will provide plenty of blooms to keep your home filled with flowers throughout the summer."

NOT ONE CUT WORM—You will note that there is not one cut worm, aphid, leaf hopper, drouh, or stray dog to mar the perfect picture. Only occasionally is there mention of such mundane things as soil, sun, shade and fertilizer.

Buried deep within the glowing phrases are such warnings as this: "Prefers the well-drained location," or "It is a tender perennial," or "Does best in full sun." All too often the gardener skips these little warnings and goes blithely along dreaming of flowers here, there and everywhere, regardless of location, soil or hardiness. His imagination is trapped by a pretty picture, and his mind is benumbed by the assertion that "flowers live to 8 inches across are not uncommon."

WILLING VICTIMS—Without making one misstatement, the seed catalogs can lead the amateur gardener far astray on the horticultural pathway. Nice part of it is that the amateur doesn't care at all. He is a

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Nahma—Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Witters have returned to Nahma after a several weeks vacation in various cities in Florida.

Garden—Senator and Mrs. James Detsch and son Roland have returned here from Lansing. They report that there is no snow in Detroit and only an inch in Lansing.

Escanaba—Martin Fitzharris has left to return to his studies in St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore, Md., after spending the mid-semester vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzharris.

Manistique—Harold Hupfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hupfer and a student of Michigan College of Mining and Technology in Houghton, has been pledged to Theta Tau fraternity, national engineering fraternity.

Twenty Years Ago

Nadeau—Leonard Dishno was admitted to St. Francis hospital yesterday suffering injuries sustained when he was crushed between two sleigh-loads of logs while he was working as a brakeman on a tractor at Faucett's camp near Hendricks.

Escanaba—Miss Alma Gauflin has left for New York City on a buying trip for her employer.

Manistique—Mrs. Marvin Langdon of Glasgow, Mont., has arrived to visit with her sister, Mrs. William Barker, River street.

Gladstone—Miss Charlotte Marble, a student of St. Lawrence college, in Appleton, Wis., has arrived to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Marble.

willing victim, eager to trade his 25 cent piece for a packet of seeds and $25,000 worth of dreams. If he is persistent in his gardening he will eventually achieve better flowers, but he will lose some of his expectations.

THE BETTER BREAK—On the practical side, the seed companies are doing better by the gardener who resides in this northern U. S. climate. Seeds especially adapted to produce plants that will reach maturity and bear in a shorter growing season have been on the market these past few years. Some of the new strains come from the Upper Peninsula.

Notable among these is the Chatham tomato, now advertised as such in most of the national seed catalogs. It matures within 60 days, earliest of any variety; the fruits are small but rich red color and the plant is productive. Seed houses describe it as "Exceptionally good for Northern districts." The Early Chatham was developed at MSC experimental station at Chatham, of course.

Michigan is also recognized with a celery known as "Michigan Golden" and declared to be "resistant to fusarium yellows." You will be pleased to know that this resistance to "fusarium yellows" was brought about when Michigan State College experts developed the new strain.

NO HARM DONE—With the U. S. Department of Agriculture urging home gardeners to consider growing "food for freedom" in 1948, the gardener needs little persuasion to get him to lay in a supply of seeds. The seed catalogs, therefore, are doing a multiple service to the nation: 1—They make the late winter months a time of anticipation for the gardener. 2—They lure the amateur with a flower and sell him a package of bean seeds and 3—More food is produced. And 4—There is a part of that "early and perpetual flowering" the seed catalog prates about.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York. (AP)—So Shirley Temple's mother, I feel, as the poet said, "Chilly and grown old." Don't you?

No news could make an entire generation of men more aware of the passing of time than the announcement that the screen's one-time favorite moppet now has a daughter of her own.

Why wasn't it just yesterday that she took our hearts with her treble voice and chubby dancing legs in "Stand Up and Cheer"? You mean that was way back in 1934?

It Isn't Fair

Where have the years gone? It isn't fair, it isn't fair at all. Shirley was the "Peter Pan" of our time, the symbol of childhood that never grows up, but is always fresh and fair and new.

No child in history ever took the world's heart more. Natural and unspoiled, she was the child that everyone yearned to have—pretty, warm-hearted, laughing and mischievous.

Each film—"Baby Takes A Bow," "Bright Eyes," "Little Miss Marker," "The Little Colonel," "Wee Willie Winkle," "Hollywood" and all the others—only sealed her conquests.

She was a junior ambassador on celluloid for America. It wasn't just the kids who were crazy about her, although they were, too. When Shirley's face clouded up on the screen in dimpled woe, theater managers had to put soft carpets on the floor to dim the sound of falling tears shed by old bachelors and spinsters in the audience.

Hundreds of thousands of mothers across the land trotted their youngsters to dancing schools and vocal lessons, hoping by some legerdemain to change them into Shirley. She became a kind of Madame Schiaparelli in the world of juvenile styles. For six years she was one of the ten top money makers among the movie stars, and she made more in income taxes than Franklin Roosevelt got for running the country.

In her golden reign a man could get into a fist fight merely by stating he didn't like Shirley Temple. Wherever she traveled, she received the 21-hat welcome usually reserved for royalty and in her way she was about the nearest thing to a princess this democracy has ever had.

And Coogan Is Bald

In those years Adolph Hitler rose and fell and a world went to war. Alphonse Canone has gone underground. Man O' War is dead, and Babe Ruth no longer points at the place in the bleachers where he is going to knock the next ball.

Change that touches all things touched Shirley, too. While we were busy with other things she just went ahead and grew up. The little girl in curls went into the cocoon of retirement and emerged a woman.

Something that was eternal—the spirit of childhood for which all adults are homesick—went with her baby curls.

It was bad enough to see Jack Coogan getting bald—and remember his timeless postcard "The Kid." But Shirley Temple is a mother—she has a child up all a cutting of her hair.

When did the years fly on fast? The next thing you know we'll be hearing Santa Claus has retired on an old age pension.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Bernard Shaw, famed 91-year-old Irish wit and playwright, has written an interesting letter endorsing Henry Wallace.

However, if Wallace is not elected, Shaw says, he would prefer a Republican "because a Republican may steal a horse, where a Democrat dare not look over the hedge."

Shaw described himself as "a Communist though not a member of the so-called Communist party," which according to friends means that Shaw believes in theories of community property, etc., but not the terroristic methods used by the Communists to put these principles into force.

Shows latter, written to Miss Fanny Holtzmann, New York attorney, follows:

14th January 1948

My Dear Fanny:

I am not a Cobdenist liberal, but the very opposite, a Communist, though not a member of the so-called Communist party. On the whole, if an up-to-date New Deal European minded candidate like Wallace is defeated, I should prefer a Republican president because a Republican may steal a horse where a Democrat dare not look over the hedge; and both Republicans and Democrats must go whether events drive them in spite of their party shibboleths.

Wallace has not taken the field too early. He should have done so months ago, because it is by his public meetings that he is gathering votes; and he also, like me, need not care a snap of his fingers which party he dislodges.

You write (31st December) as if you were a liberal, and believe that Cobdenists are more progressive than Fascist Tory-Democrats. The case is exactly the reverse. Cobdenist free trade and laissez-faire are as dead as a doornail. Fascism (capture of the Socialist program by the capitalist leaders) has completely ousted liberalism; and Socialist-democracy is on the march working its own way and driving all capitalist parties in spite of their inertia.

Ponder this well, Fanny, before you meddle in politics, especially my politics. I know what I am writing about.

G. Bernard Shaw.

Note — A "Cobdenist liberal" refers to followers of Richard Cobden, 19th century British liberal who distrusted government intervention in trade and industry but believed in a people's movement for peace.

CIO FIGHT OVER MARSHALL

As CIO Chief Phil Murray goes on the witness stand regarding the Marshall plan, he faces hot rebellion in his ranks from the National Maritime Union which demands that goods shipped broad under the Marshall plan be carried in American ships.

In mid-December two-fisted Joe Curran, head of the unruly Maritime Union, together with John Green, head of the CIO's shipyard workers, told Murray he should qualify his support for the Marshall plan by stipulating that American seamen should carry Marshall plan goods in American ships at American pay scales. They pointed out that a large part of the steel we are sending to Europe is going into ships while our own shipyards are idle, and that more than 1,400 merchant ships have been turned over to European nations during the past year while there is unemployment among American seamen.

Indignant, Murray agreed.

However, Jim Carey, able CIO secretary, and prime mover within the CIO for the Marshall plan, has insisted that the plan must have the unqualified support of the CIO. The shipping matter, he maintains, can be fixed up satisfactorily.

Carey, a powerful influence inside the CIO, flew to Pittsburgh last week mainly to argue this point with his boss.

Meanwhile, Curran thinks that if Murray will continue to oppose the ship transfer he can win his Maritime Union over to supporting the Marshall plan. Also his moderate policy will be strengthened in the union elections which get under way March 1.

So Phil Murray, when he testifies on the Marshall plan, will be very much on the spot.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

Highlights from the secret Republican caucus at which G. O. P. House leaders finally got unanimous support for the Knutson tax bill:

California's Bud Gearhart touched off some fireworks when he boasted that 77 per cent of the tax cuts would help people with incomes under $4,000.

"Even the Republican," snorted Michigan's irascible Fred Crawford, "have fallen for the soak-the-rich hysteria. Both parties are trying to buy votes with handouts."

"Congress is 'crucifying' industry and destroying initiative with its one-sided tax legislation," continued the gentleman who has sometimes been called the General Motors representative in Congress. "I am tired of all this demagoguery about soaking the rich when it is no longer possible to become rich, and all we have left are tired old men."

Speaker Joe Martin gave an inside report on what happened at the secret Democratic caucus just ended. The Democrats, he said, voted to oppose the bill in a body. Their strategy, he predicted, would be to move for recommitment, then fight for easing the reductions in each tax bracket.

Hal Holmes of Washington reported that "Muley Bob" Doughton of North Carolina, though a Democrat, was in favor of scrapping the president's plan for $40 exemption-reductions.

Daniel Reed of New York spoke for the ways and means committee. The tax bill, he said, was the result of meticulous study,

Escanaba Lumbermen To Attend Milwaukee Retailers' Meeting

Milwaukee—Recognizing the important and tremendous home building job that is still being faced in 1948, members of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association are planning all-out efforts in making their contribution to solving the housing problem. The 58th annual convention will be held at the Milwaukee Auditorium on Feb. 17-19 and intensive discussions of all phases of dealer operations will feature the program.

Earl Frechette and Michael Farrell of Escanaba will attend the conference.

What to advise their customers about building in '48 will be the dominating theme of addresses and deliberations at the convention, according to C. K. Arp, Elkhorn, president. Expanded production facilities and new techniques have brightened the building material outlook. The one principal exception has been the production of steel and steel building products. While there will be no lumber surplus, there will be ample lumber of most types this year for the housing needs of the nation.

The importance to the local lumber retailer of meeting housing needs of every community of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan is indicated by the interest shown in the convention topics and in making reservations to attend the Milwaukee meeting, Mr. Arp pointed out.

Although lumber prices have risen, the increases have been only in the same proportion as the rise in farm and other prices. The cost of lumber used in the average small house totals only about 20 per cent of the cost of all materials and labor. The efficiency of labor has increased, especially in the building field, although there are many individual exceptions. This efficiency may balance the higher wages.

New home construction in Wisconsin to meet urgent needs should increase in 1948, Mr. Arp believes, if the efforts to improve the capacity to build are successful to the limits of available materials and of skilled labor.

Radiant Heating Coils Best Placed In House Floors

New York—Radiant heating for homes and factories received much attention today at the meeting here of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers. Experts reported on scientific investigations of the efficiency of this heating method as compared with conventional systems.

Radiant heating systems are relatively new. In them, steam or hot water pipes are embedded in floors, sidewalls or even ceilings. The heated floor or wall radiates heat throughout the room. One advantage is that there are no visible space-taking radiators; another is claimed greater efficiency.

There are now thousands of homes, factories and office buildings with radiant heating, mostly installations of the past few years. There is still much to learn about it, however. Locating radiant panel heating coils in the floor results in more uniform temperatures from floor to ceiling than in the case of either wall or ceiling, the engineers were told by J. M. Ayres and B. W. Levy, of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Crushing Medical Tablets Advised

Chicago (SS)—When you give a sulfa drug tablet to a young child, be sure the tablet is crushed and moistened with water, warns Dr. C. L. Heald, of Sigourney, Iowa, in the Journal of the American Medical Association here.

The death of a two and one-half year old child prompted his warning. The child died of suffocation caused by half a sulfadiazine tablet prescribed by a physician. The tablet had stuck in her larynx when she tried to swallow it and although Dr. Heald rapidly cut an opening into her throat through her neck, removed the pieces of tablet and gave artificial respiration, it was too late.

Physicians should, Dr. Heald states, instruct parents on how to give these tablets safely or else prescribe one of the sugar lozenges or pleasant-tasting liquid sulfa drug preparations now available.

EDITORS AREN'T SUCH BAD GUYS

They Wear Clean Shirts, Drink Cokes, Are Kind To Animals

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
Cleveland.—They have been throwing a meeting of managing editors, news editors, city editors, and kindred curious fauna out here, sort of swapping genius back and forth. For some reason I got mixed up in it, and it is an uneasy mixture. I am becoming a traitor to my craft, because I find I like managing editors. City editors, too.

This is not according to tradition. Editors and reporters used to circle each other stiffly, like strange dogs. A writing man could gain a murky reputation automatically by remarking that old so-and-so, over there in the corner, wasn't such a bad guy as newspaper executives came. There was no such thing as good live M. E., just as unkind editors were regarded with jaundice by the typewriter technicians.

They took a poll in Cleveland on these assembled guardians of the budget and the unpleasant assignment, and they proved up remarkably human. They were found to have only one head each, maybe 2.3 children—I forget the exact figure—and few vices colorful enough to be remarkable.

Wear Clean Shirts
They wear clean shirts, worry about taxes, and they sit in peaceful conclave all day long, drinking cokes. That brown wet stuff. They confessed puzzlement—I'm sure I wasn't supposed to hear this—about all sorts of things, both foreign and domestic. They stay sober, go to bed early, and the poker-game had a two-bit limit, up to the final card.

This just doesn't jibe with the legend on which I was weaned. I was scared of them for years. I thought they had occult powers denied the ordinary mortal. Editors and sub-editors were never born as babies. They came into the world fully matured, with adding machines for minds. They knew everything, automatically, and they were always right. They had loud voices, and if you cut them they did not bleed. They exuded acid.

The motion pictures always presented the managing editor as an earthly extension of God, who toppled governments and unhorsed presidents merely by frowning out the window. His only spoken words were: "you're fired," and he could cause the building to quake by quaking an eyebrow.

The city editor was a man of bitter tongue, with the power to send innocent reporters to their deaths in Brooklyn. They were horned demons who distorted your copy under the flimsy excuse of avoiding libel—and, while four-bottle men themselves—fiercely resented a hint of beer on a reporter's breath.

One of them, lovingly fondling five cards the other night, was moaning that nobody appreciated the lone, lorn, unloved plight of the newspaper executive, and that they had been ruthlessly defamed by both the movies and the loose, irresponsible talk of sourd reporters.

"We are really nice folks," he said. "We are kind to animals."

and children. We have hobbies. We love our wives. Look at us. Some of us are practically beardless boys. The lady at the key-desk reports us as the best behaved convention she has ever seen. The milk of human kindness flows freely from us, and you should do a column about what managing editors and city editors are really like. Raise you 50 cents."

I said call, and was going on to agree with him, especially since he obviously was trying to make a busted flush stand up and I was wearing two nice little pairs.

I was going to say that my first M. E. turned out to be a good Joe after he chopped off his beard, and that I knew a city editor named McArdle or McAndrew or something who smiled at his help and was regarded as a jolly good fellow. Then I raised, and he raised back, and it turned out he did have the heart flush after all.

On second thought, I guess they haven't changed much from the original concept. Always in there with the foot on the neck of the working man.

Conservation Dept. Wants Answer On Car Searching Law

Concerned over the growing wave of conservation law violations and recognizing inherent weaknesses in the law under which conservation officers have been combating it, conservation director P. J. Hoffmaster has requested an opinion of the attorney general on the statute that confers on conservation officers the power to search automobiles and other vehicles used by violators.

"If the provisions of this statute are faulty, we shall, of necessity, seek a remedy in the legislature," Hoffmaster said.

Shining of deer during both closed and open season, "road hunting" of other game and transportation of loaded firearms in cars are the sources of the greatest number of arrests. The law specifically makes illegal the possession of firearms in automobiles in game areas between sunset and sunrise, except in hunting seasons. Loaded guns in cars are illegal all times.

Because these offenses are at present classed as misdemeanors, and because of conflict between court holdings and wording of the statute, as to the right of conservation officers to make searches involving misdemeanors, the clarification was sought.

Mountaineer Fire Burns 159 Years

Saluda, N. C. (AP) — For 159 years a fire has been burning continuously on the hearth in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Owens in the mountains near this little town. Mrs. Owens' uncle, William Morris, bequeathed it to her in 1944 when he died.

They have eight children, 22 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren to carry on the tradition when they can no longer tend the fire which requires about a cord of wood a month. It never has been fed with coal.

The fire was kindled with flint and steel by Thomas Dalton, Mrs. Owens' great uncle by marriage. He willed the fire to his wife, Elizabeth, who lived to be 102 years old and she willed it to Morris.

The Owens are past 70, but their youngest son, Wendell, has indicated he will continue the tradition.

ABOUT BRASSIERES

Your figure type is the best guide to use in selecting a brassiere that will give you correct and comfortable support.

The bras best suited to the teen-ager, according to experts of the Corset and Brassiere Association, is the bandeau which offers only gentle restraint. A bandeau made of lace or lightweight cotton or rayon with or without a narrow supporting band is recommended.

To flatter the smaller-than-average figure, the brassiere cups, whether they are pointed or rounded, should be separated—net, lace or elastic sections are usually used. A sturdy band under the bra will provide support and uplift.

Uplift is an important feature for the woman with an average-sized bosom to consider when buying a bra. A separate sling inside the bust cup will help to elevate the bosom and give it additional support. One of the new long-line bras for which the fabric extends to the waist accentuates a well-rounded bust contour and creates a long smooth line below it.

For the full-bosomed-figure, the brassiere should be of strong fabric and have long enough lines to control the diaphragm. Shoulder straps that are broad or built-up will be less apt to chafe and will hold the bra in better alignment than narrow straps.

The so-called "wailing wall" in Jerusalem is believed to be a remnant of King Solomon's temple.

Mrs. Roy Lindstrom, 304 South 14th street, has been dismissed from St. Francis hospital where she received medical treatment.

CAVES SUBJECT
OF PERRY BOOKRoleo Publicist Has 2nd
Book On Spelunking
Published

"Underground Empire," wonders and tales of New York Caves, a second volume on American caves by Clay Perry has been printed by the Stephen Daye Press, New York.

Author Perry is known to Gladstonians having covered the Roleo in 1941 for the Saturday Evening Post.

In presenting "Underground Empire" the following leaflet was issued:

"Again Clay Perry shows that it isn't necessary to go far afield to find adventure. This time he takes us into the little-known caverns of the Empire State, reveals their dangers and strange beauties, tells of their formation and discovery, and relates many tales connected with their history and with the history of the country."

"He shows us how to slide down a hundred-foot rope into an inky black hole—and keep our head while doing it; how to follow an underground stream that leads into hidden wonders; he takes us to the cave grave of an early Algonquin—complete with its trimmings—and makes us feel we know the man; he introduces us to the haunts of Uncas and Deerslayer, made famous by Cooper in 'The Last of the Mohicans'; reveals the hideouts of desperadoes long since gone to their reward; by scores of facts and fascinating bits of folklore makes us more aware of the interesting character and history of things about us."

"Mr. Perry, former newspaper editor, and long-established writer on many subjects, has come to be known as 'The Spelunker' from Latin spelunca, cave), and through his books, magazine and newspaper articles, and lectures is doing much to promote interest in this field of exploration. Cave-exploring clubs are springing up everywhere, and membership is increasing by leaps and bounds in the National Speleological Society which has given its official approval to Underground Empire and the other books of the series."

"Underground Empire" has numerous illustrations, and papers showing the structure of a typical cave, and a foreword by Carl Carmer, distinguished author and historian, who has written much about the territory encompassed in the book."

REV. JAS. BELL
ROTE SPEAKERPresents Case Against Universal Military Training

A case against universal military training was presented before Gladstone Rotarians Monday noon in a talk by the Rev. James Bell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Escanaba.

The speaker took various points advanced as arguments in favor of UMT, analyzed them and offered refutation in fair, reasonable manner.

He said the compulsory training of our youth did not guarantee safety nor would it prevent war—that the only means of preventing war was to abolish it.

At the conclusion of his talk, Tom Beaton, member of the local club, requested and obtained permission to have the other side of the question presented before club members, either by himself or some other person, at a future date.

Next Monday evening the club will have a ladies' night program at the Yacht club.

Ohio State Knocks Wolverines From First Place In Big Nine

MANISTIQUE SKI MEET—As this fine picture indicates, ideal weather conditions prevailed for the second annual Manistique ski jumping tournament Sunday in which Reuben Hamari, Iron Mountain Class A expert, established a new hill record of 101 feet off Jamestown tower. The old mark was 90, made by Reuben's young brother, Allan, last winter. A crowd of 3,000 saw the meet—also a new record. (Photo by Vernon C. Linderoth)

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—Curt Stone, whose smashing triumph in the Millrose two-mile race last Saturday made him look like a standout among American distance runners, is strictly a manufactured runner. . . In high school at Brooklyn, Pa., Curt was no great shakes as an athlete. He took up running seriously (and that's just the word) at Penn State and kept at it until he became one of the top college runners. . . Last year, when he emerged from the army with "service legs," Stone stayed out of school for six months to get himself into condition and that paid off with a flock of national and collegiate titles. . . Just so he could train for the Olympics, Curt took a job as circulation manager on the daily paper at State College, Pa., where he can train with Gerry Karver and Horace Ashenfelter. . . Sounds like a rather grim business, but Curt maintains: "Distance runners, as a rule, are easy going fellows." Maybe he's right. They say he doesn't even get ruffled when the paper isn't delivered on time.

Today's Guest Star

Norris Anderson, Lincoln (Neb.) star. "In a single day of golf, Joe Louis sometimes eats as many as 20 candy bars. . . He must have played a round the day before he met Jersey Joe."

Shorts and Shells

Big Bill Bangert, former Missouri and Purdue athlete, will shoot for a spot on the Olympic team by competing in the National AAU Indoor Track championships at New York and his regional Olympic boxing tryouts. . . Insiders say that one big reason why Don Faurot didn't leave Missouri for the navy is that Washington bigwigs are tossing their weight around to give the president's favorite college an attractive and profitable schedule. . . The West Side Tennis club at Forest Hills is threatening to ditch the national tennis championships unless Promoter Jack Harris will guarantee the appearance of Bobby Riggs and Jack Kramer. . . Eddie Dyer argues that Branch Rickey pulled one of the greatest baseball trades on record when he got Bill Cox and Preacher Roe for Hal Gregg, Dixie Walker and Vic Lombardi. It would have been a good deal to get Cox alone for those three, Eddie says.

Take Your Choice

Joe Culhane, who plays center on the Georgetown U. basketball team, is a guy who likes to shoot when he gets that ball, a habit that sometimes annoys his teammates. . . So one day Forward Frank Alagia asked: "Why did you didn't pass the ball back off the pivot. . . 'Brother,' replied Culhane, 'when you pass to me you can expect one of three things in return—a fake, a wink or a handshake.'"

Photo Finish

Jockey Ted Atkinson, an ardent amateur photographer, noticed a pro shutter snapper setting up his color photo equipment at Hialeah the other day. . . "How will I look in the picture in this purple shirt?" Ted asked. . . "Okay," the photographer replied. . . "Well, watch for me at the finish. I'll be out in front for you," said Ted. . . He was.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3 (AP)—Michigan skidded from first to fourth place in the Big Nine Basketball race last night with a 70 to 66 loss to Ohio State.

The surprising Buckeyes—mastering the Wolverines for their second conference victory—enabled Wisconsin to move back into the top spot after relinquishing it to Michigan Saturday night.

Iowa defeated Northwestern 57-54, to tie Illinois for second place. Each has four wins for two losses, while the Ann Arbor quintet dropped its second decision against three victories.

Ohio State, after keeping pace with the favored Wolverines for most of the first half, grabbed a lead shortly before the midway whistle when forward Bob Burkholder looked five quick baskets. The Bucks led 36 to 27 at the half, and kept up the pace, threatening for a time to turn the game into a rout. But a sharp-shooting display by Michigan guard Bob Harrison helped whittle down a big OSU lead, and two minutes before the end of the game the Wolverines trailed by a lone point—67 to 66.

Burkholder then sank a free throw to add a point to the margin, and forward Bob Donham added insurance with a sleeper shot before time ran out.

Captain Harrison of the Michigan squad topped the scoring with 20 points, and Donham, who recently recovered from a blood infection, made 19.

BIG NINE SCRAMBLE

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Big Nine basketball title scramble is so close that one upset can change the entire pattern of the leaders.

The Wolverines' loss enabled Wisconsin to regain the lead with a 5-2 record. Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Purdue also have two defeats and are lower in the standings only by virtue of not playing as many games as the Badgers.

Ohio State's triumph hoisted the Buckeyes out of the cellar and into a deadlock with Indiana for seventh. Northwestern took sole possession of last place.

Ohio State decided its win at the foul line by making 14 out of 20 attempts while Michigan sank 10 out of 11.

At Iowa City, Chuck Tourek hit a short shot for Northwestern with five seconds left to tie the score 49-49 and send the game into overtime. Bill Sticklen put Northwestern ahead at one time in the extra heat, but Reserve Bob Yollers regained the lead at 55-54 and Bud Schultz followed up with the clinching basket.

Iowa's Murray Wier, able to take only two shots in the first nine minutes, finally broke loose to score 20 points. Sticklen was high for Northwestern with 16.

In other Midwest games last night, Kevin O'Shea piled in 25 points to lead Notre Dame over Kentucky 64-55 and Marquette walloped Regis of Denver 57-48.

Next tests for Big Nine teams come Saturday when Michigan goes to Illinois, Iowa to Purdue, Ohio State to Minnesota, and Northwestern meets Wisconsin in Chicago Stadium. Indiana travels to Miami of Ohio in the only non-conference date.

Wolverine Puckmen Beat Michigan Tech

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 3 (AP)—Coach Vic Heiviger of the University of Michigan hockey team watched his own scoring record fall last night as Center Gordon McMillan paced the Wolverines to a 9 to 8 victory over Michigan Tech.

McMillan, earning six points on four goals and two assists, pushed his season total to 119 points, three over the mark Heylinger set as a Michigan ice star.

The win put the Wolverines one up in the four-game series with Tech, the second game of the series will be played tonight.

Johnny Lujack To Marry Iowa Girl

Connellsville, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Johnny Lujack, 23-year-old all-American football star, said today he and Miss Patricia (Patty) Schierbrack, 20, of Davenport, Iowa, will be married sometime after his graduation from Notre Dame next spring.

The engagement became known after the couple attended a party given by friends. Miss Schierbrack, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schierbrack, of Davenport, is visiting at the home of Lujack's parents here.

JOCK LESLIE WINS

New Orleans, Feb. 3 (AP)—Jock Leslie of Flint, Mich., knocked down Floyd Shifflet twice and won a unanimous 10-round decision over the Rome, Ga., fighter last night. Leslie weighed 127½ pounds to 127 for Shifflet.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Clarence E. (King) Lehr, the Detroit racing magnate who died Sunday, was a native of Escanaba who returned to the community of his birth from the Philadelphia Phillies long enough to manage the Escanaba nine to an Upper Peninsula championship in 1912.

Shortly after he became head of the Detroit Racing association at the time of its organization in 1933, he penned a very brief biographical sketch at the request of this newspaper.

In typically modest manner, he wrote: "I do not believe a biographical sketch of myself amounts to a great deal, but here it is for what it is worth. I was born in Escanaba May 16, 1887. My father's name is John E. Lehr, who has been a resident of Escanaba for some 50 years (as of 1934), and my mother was Mary Hartman, long since deceased."

"I was graduated from the Escanaba high school and later from the law department of the University of Michigan, fussed around playing baseball for awhile with Buffalo in the old Eastern league and for a brief time I was with the Philadelphia National league club."

"After leaving law school in 1914," he continued, "I entered the law office of Alex J. Groesbeck in Detroit. In the summer of 1933, I became interested in the Detroit racing situation and associated myself with Mr. Charles B. Bohn and Mr. Peter A. Markey, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Bohn Aluminum and Brass corporation."

He went on to explain briefly the organization of the Detroit racing organization, which he headed and was actively interested in until his death Saturday at the age of 62.

Lehr was a baseball catcher and a good one, the record shows, but he gave up baseball shortly after piloting Escanaba to a U. P. title to study law at the University of Michigan and was an attorney in the office of Groesbeck before the latter became Governor of Michigan.

Funeral services for the former Escanaban were held at 11 this morning in Detroit. Among the survivors are Mrs. Ralph Shiner, of Escanaba, and his father, John Lehr, who is still a resident of this community.

ODDS AND ENDS: Since Escanaba ski jumpers have come into some prominence this season, having been recognized by a writeup in the Central U. S. Ski association publication, "Ski Sport," many Escanabans are becoming interested in the daring sport. . . An explanation of the various classes, which are confusing to some, follows: Those in Class C are riders under 18 years of age. . . Those in Class B are riders who have attained the age of 18 and have not yet qualified for Class A. . . To qualify for Class A a rider in this part of the United States must finish first, second or third in an official Central U. S. or national championship tournament. . . The senior class consists of those jumpers who have reached the age of 32 and no longer desire to compete in Class A.

Men over 32 can—and many of them do—compete in Class A if they so desire. . . To name two prominent Class A jumpers who are well over 32 but still like the fast Class A competition, we give you Sverre Fredheim, 40-year-old member of the United States ski jumping Olympic team, and Ted Zoberski, the Ironwood perennial, who admits 42 years.

Gene Hebert, well-known Escanaba speed skater, has some interesting comments about speed skating style: "The reason why Michigan skaters do not perform well in the national championship event is the difference in racing styles used by Michigan performers and those elsewhere in the nation who cop the honors."

"Detroit and other lower Michigan skaters are still using the short, choppy stroke on the inside edge of the skate. Minneapolis skaters and others dominating the national meet year after year are using the Olympic style—a long, smooth stroke that starts on the outside edge and slowly and gradually turns to the inside edge for the push for the succeeding stroke."

Trojans Battle Baraga In Marquette Tomorrow; Eskymos To Play Friday

St. Joseph's Trojans, with a record of eight victories against five defeats, will be out to bounce back from unexpected losses to Felch and St. Paul's of Negaunee, when they invade Marquette tomorrow night to battle Baraga parochial.

Next Sunday afternoon, the Manistique Paper Mills invade Rapid River.

Bethany Lutheran Has 5-Game Church Dartball Loop Lead

By sweeping their second consecutive match, three games out of five, Bethany Lutheran pulled away to a five game lead in the Church Dartball league. Central Methodist was the victim this time to the tune of 7-1, 4-0, 4-0.

First Methodist established some kind of a record in losing its eleventh straight game. In helping First Methodist establish this record, St. Stephen's pulled up even with Central for second place in the league standings.

Scores: 5-2, 5-4 (10 innings), and 3-0.

LOSES SPLIT DECISION

Boston, Feb. 3 (AP)—Pete Mead's smashing right wasn't quite effective enough against Al (Red) Priest last night, and he lost a split decision to the Cambridge, Mass., middleweight veteran.

Favored to knock out Priest in their 10-round battle, the hard puncher from Grand Rapids had his opponent reeling several times late in the fight after the Red-head had piled up an early lead 35-31 victory over Sault Ste. Marie last Friday, are preparing to meet Iron Mountain on the latter's court this Friday night. The Eskymos lost to Iron Mountain, 43-41, here Dec. 12 after having a 16-point lead midway in the third quarter.

Playing Baraga parochial is nothing new for the Trojans. They stopped the Marquette five in a 43-32 thriller here Dec. 14 and also defeated Baraga en route to the U. P. parochial school championship in Marquette Dec. 29.

Coach Fred Boddy last Saturday night took his starters to see Northern Michigan college defeat Soo Tech. They have not played since Jan. 25 when St. Paul's turning in an upset victory. St. Paul's is the team St. Joe defeated in the finals of the U. P. tourney.

Early Entries For U. P. Bowling Meet Sought by Longline

Gene Longline, Marquette, who is managing the Upper Peninsula Bowling association tournament to be held in Marquette this year, urges all bowlers in the Escanaba area to get their entries in soon as a possible in order to get a choice date and starting time.

"So far, I have received entries from Menominee, Marinette, Peshtigo, Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Ishpeming, Marquette and Caspian," Longline said. "Menominee and Ironwood each will have at least 30 teams. They are making bids for the 1949 meet."

TED DOES IT AGAIN—Ted Zoberski, daring Ironwood rider, probably holds more unofficial hill records than any other jumper in the U. P. He loves to put on a show. The Gogebic Range veteran, one of the oldest Class A riders in the nation, was second in Class A in Manistique Sunday, but like the Zoberski of old, he managed to steal some of the spotlight from Reuben Hamari, Iron Mountain rider who leaped an official 101 for a new hill record, by jumping 102 feet for an unofficial hill record. ## Escanaba Hawks To Try It Again In Marquette; 3rd Time May Be Charm

Escanaba's Hawks, who have demonstrated this season that they are capable of a fast brand of hockey, will journey to Marquette this evening in another effort to knock the Marquette Loons from their undefeated perch atop the Upper Michigan Amateur Hockey league.

Prior to Gladstone's 6-4 loss to Marquette Jan. 27 when the Indians had a 3-0 lead over the Loons before Goalie Eino Maki was injured and the Loons caught up and passed the Indians with a substitute in the nets, the Hawks had come the closest to handing the Loons their first defeat of the season.

In Marquette Jan. 13, Marquette scored four goals at the outset quicker than you can say Paul Goymerac. It took the Hawks that long to get used to that large Palestra ice surface, 60 feet longer than the Hawks' home rink at the state fairgrounds.

Once they became accustomed to the big rink, however, they performed commendably. They not only held Marquette scoreless the remainder of that game, but they rapped in two goals themselves to make the final score, 4-2. It was a bangup game and demonstrated conclusively what kind of hockey the Hawks could play if they had a large rink to practice and play their home games on.

Five days later in Escanaba, the Hawks had a 2-1 lead on Marquette going into the final period, but the Marquette youngsters, offshoots of a junior hockey program who never seem to tire, scored twice in the final period to pull the game out of fire, 3-2. At that, the two goals were somewhat of the nature of lucky punches—the first went by Goalie George Jerow from about 20 feet out front through a maze of arms and legs and the second slipped

STATE BUILDING TO BE PUSHED

Release Of $9,793,500
Asked For Projects
At Institutions

Lansing, Feb. 3 (AP)—Release of an additional $9,793,500 to continue or start building projects at state institutions was to be asked of the state postwar victory building board today.

The board was created by the legislature to supervise the release of funds previously voted for construction.

In addition, the board received requests for numerous transfers to permit completion of other projects.

The state administrative board's committee refused to ask for a transfer of $10,000 to permit completion of a classroom building at Michigan State Normal college with a tall corner tower. The committee said it could not justify spending $35,000 for the tower.

The requests for release of new funds include:

Michigan State Normal college, $140,000 for heating plant; Northern Michigan College of Education, $100,000 for a heating plant; Michigan School for the Blind, $50,000 for a service building; state prison of southern Michigan, $30,000 for water system.

Michigan State college, $3,350,000 for various buildings; University of Michigan, $3,200,000 for various buildings; Michigan School for the Deaf, $179,500 for a dormitory; State health department, $219,000 for a laboratory; Ionia reformatory, $425,000 for a power plant; Pontiac State Hospital, $1,100,000 for a men's geriatrics union, and Northville State Hospital, $1,000,000 for a power plant.

Americans Taken Out of Changchun As Battle Looms

Peiping, Feb. 3 (AP)—The air evacuation of all American Nationals, including missionaries, from isolated Changchun was started today by American authorities.

The evacuees, who will be brought to Peiping, will include U. S. Consul Allen Siebens, who closed his consulate Saturday.

Meanwhile, Chinese commercial airlines announced they were increasing the number of daily flights from Mukden to Peiping to accommodate the increasing numbers wishing to leave the Manchurian city as the situation steadily worsens.

(By Nanking, a dispatch to the independent HSIN MIN Pao from its Mukden correspondent said a large scale battle was developing on the outskirts of Mukden. The dispatch gave no details.)

Councilman Ruled Ineligible for Job As DSR Manager

Detroit, Feb. 3 (AP)—This city's public transportation system was without a general manager today after Councilman Del A. Smith was ruled ineligible for the job.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Clarence E. Page said Smith could not legally take command of the Department of Street Railways and retain his council post as well.

Mayor Eugene I. Van Antwerp thereupon recommended that the DSR commission name one of its members to the post on a temporary basis.

General Manager Richard A. Sullivan announced his resignation Saturday from the $20,000 a year post. He had differed over policy—particularly with regard to his recommendation for a fare boost—with the commissioners and other city officials.

There are some 140 species of octopuses.

Escanaba Serviceman's Body Returns Tomorrow

The body of Pfc. James J. Reiss, 33, who was killed in action with the United States Army in France July 31, 1944, is being returned to Escanaba from the U. S. military cemetery at St. Laur-ent-sur-Mer tomorrow night and will be taken to the Allo funeral home.

Funeral services will be held in St. Joseph's church here at 9 Friday morning, with Father Alphonse officiating, and burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Private Reiss, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reiss, 415 South 16th street, Escanaba, will be buried with full military honors. A special service is being arranged by Escanaba veterans' organizations under the supervision of the Delta county office of veterans' affairs.

He entered service June 24, 1943, and received his basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he was stationed until he came home on furlough in January, 1944. He then reported to Camp Butner, N. C., where he received final training before going overseas May 9, 1944. He arrived in England May 18 and about June 15 he went to France and participated in the Normandy Beach landings and subsequent action.

Before entering service he was employed as a tinsmith at the Rehnquist sheet metal works in Escanaba. He is survived by his parents, a daughter, Dorothy Mae; a son, Lloyd and a sister, Mrs. Frank Beaudry.

Private Reiss' body was one of seven from the Upper Peninsula, 61 from Michigan and 1,753 American servicemen in all who were returned to this country recently aboard the "Corporal Eric G. Gibson."

The Escanaban served in combat with Company E of the 134th infantry, 35th division.

SENATE PUTS GOP TAX CUT BILL ON ICE

tee will not even open hearings on the House-approved bill until the budget committee reports. This report is due by February 15.

Action by the full Senate probably will be delayed until after a vote on the Marshall Plan for European recovery. This may put off a final tax showdown until April.

Whenever the bill is passed, however, and providing a veto is overridden, the cuts will date back to January 1. Any overpayments in the meantime would be refunded.

Senator George (Ga.) top ranking Democrat on the finance committee, voiced the view that if the Republicans hold their tax cut to about $4,000,000,000 "there would be enough votes to enact it into law over a veto, if there is one."

Rep. Doughton (D-NC.) senior Democrat on the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee, made a similar prediction.

Doughton, while supporting "reasonable" tax reduction said a $6,500,000,000 cut might set the treasury back to keeping its books with red ink.

Substitute Defeated
As it passed the House yesterday, the bill would grant tax reductions ranging from 100 per cent to those in the lowest income groups to 10 per cent in the upper brackets. It would remove 7,400,000 low income persons from the tax rolls completely.

Specifically, it would:

1. Raise personal exemptions by $100 from $500 to $600.
2. Allow husbands and wives in all states to split the family income for tax purposes, thus permitting lower tax rates.
3. Grant percentage cuts ranging from 30 per cent in the low bracket to 10 per cent in the upper bracket.
4. Give special exemptions to persons 65 and over and to the blind.

Before it passed that bill yesterday, the House beat down 258 to 159 a Democratic substitute. The Democrats sought to cut individual taxes by $4,000,000,000 and to recover all but $800,000,000 of the revenue loss by a new $3,200,000,000 excess profits levy on corporations.

In presenting their substitute the Democrats threw overboard Mr. Truman's proposal for a $40 per person tax cut, but used his excess profits plan.

Child Slain in Fear Of Mental Illness; Mother Committed

An Arbor, Mich., Feb. 3 (AP)—A psychiatrist's wife, accused of slaying her daughter because she feared the child would inherit a mental ailment, has been ordered committed to Ionia State Hospital.

The commitment of Mrs. Jean Kennison, 27, was directed by Circuit Judge James R. Breaker, Jr., Monday after a sanity commission testified the woman was unable to understand "fully" the first degree murder charge against her.

Her husband, Dr. Warren S. Kennison, resident psychiatrist in University Hospital's veteran's administration program, concurred in the findings.

Mrs. Kennison was found Dec. 22 lying in front of a chapel near the couple's Willow Village home, her arms around the body of the child, Diane Estelle. The child's throat was cut and the mother's throat and wrists slashed.

Fegenbush asked that the operation be performed, although he was aware that his chances of survival were one in 99. The surgeon, who declined the use of his name, performed the operation originated by Dr. Alfred Blalock of Johns Hopkins hospital. He connected one of the large systemic blood vessels with the pulmonary artery leading to the lungs.

A heart defect at birth prevents sufficient blood being pumped through the lungs of "blue babies" to supply the body with oxygen.

Attendants at Children's hospital, where Fegenbush was operated, said 55 Blalock surgeries have been performed there. Of these only four were adults, ranging from 17 to 24 years. Two of the adults and 42 of the children lived.

CIVIL RIGHTS ISSUE SPLITS SOLID SOUTH

vote for Mr. Truman. Those back of this plan think that if they can get 60 electoral votes switched, they might throw a close presidential race into the House. Then they would propose a southern Democrat as a compromise between Mr. Truman and his Republican opponent.

The constitution provides that presidential electors, rather than the voters themselves, shall elect the president and vice president.

Customarily, the people vote for those electors. But the constitution says each state may appoint its electors "in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct."

After the presidential election in November, the electors meet in their own states, cast their votes for president and vice president and send their ballots to Washington.

The ballots then are counted at a joint meeting of the Senate and House. If neither candidate has a majority of the 531 electoral votes, then the House of Representatives meets by itself to do the electing among the three highest candidates.

Some May Wait
Senator Maybank (D-SC) said there are some indications Democrats in his state may wait until after the party's National convention at Philadelphia to nominate their electors. That way they could get a look first at the party platform and the vice presidential nominee.

Besides his four proposals that made the Southerners hit the ceiling, Mr. Truman called upon Congress to do these things "to see that constitutional guarantees of individual liberties and of equal protection under the laws are not denied or abridged anywhere in our union."

Set up a permanent commission to study civil rights issues, also a joint congressional committee to do likewise and a special civil rights division in the justice department.

Strengthen present civil rights laws.

Provide home rule and the right to vote in presidential elections for residents of the District of Columbia. The district now is governed by Congress and a commission appointed by the president. People here have no vote.

Grant statehood to Hawaii and Alaska "and a greater measure of self government for our island possessions."

Remove racial or national barriers which prevent some United States residents from becoming citizens.

Set up machinery to pay the damage claims of more than 100,000 Japanese-Americans who were moved inland from Pacific coast states during the war.

Walter White, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, described Mr. Truman's proposals as "courageous" steps toward making "democracy a living reality."

And James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO congratulated the president for his "unequivocal demand upon Congress" and said the CIO "fully supports" the program.

On Capitol Hill, however, Mr. Truman's 4,000-word message was greeted generally as a political gesture.

Ashes of Gandhi To Be Scattered On River Feb. 12

New Delhi, Feb. 3 (AP)—The ashes of Mohandas K. Gandhi will be committed to the Sacred Hindu rivers at Allahabad on Feb. 12, it was announced today.

Sailem Chatterji, a member of Gandhi's staff, said a casting of the stars had determined that date to be the most propitious.

The ashes will be scattered on the waters at the confluence of the Ganges, Jumna and Saraswati rivers, the most sacred spot—to Hindus—in all India. Allahabad is about 350 miles southeast of New Delhi.

Gandhi, cut down by an assassin's bullets last Friday, was cremated beside the Jumna here the next day.
